Stone Collection

Our latest collection is more than just furniture; it is a celebration of geological wonder. By sourcing rare fossil stones and natural minerals, we have created a series of pieces that serve as functional sculptures for the modern home.

Petrified Wood Fossil

A unique natural material formed over millions of years, where wood has gradually transformed into stone through mineralization. Each piece retains the original grain and structure, making every item one of a kind. Durable, weather-resistant, and ideal for statement décor with a timeless, organic character.
